How do you wear your hat? Do you lean it on the back of your head, wear it sedately straight up and down, or tilt it over one ear? This detail of daily demeanor has become worth watching, along with a number of other minor matters, because one of the new class of investigators is developing in Europe is likely to read your past and your character in it.

Of Daily Service

The new European experts have been confining the application of their work largely to criminal science so far, but their methods can be used by any intelligent man in his daily business. They tell you how to read what the other fellow is thinking and feeling, especially when he wants you to believe he is thinking and feeling something else. When you put a price on a piece of land and the buyer almost falls out of his chair in surprise you can tell, if you know what to look for, whether that surprise is real or not. When you strike the head of your department for a raise, and he is horrified, you want to know whether the horror is genuine or assumed.

The new methods are based on the fact that there is a part of us—the subconscious part—that is largely beyond our control. The more we are interested in something else, the more the subconscious goes its own sweet way. And for every emotion, the subconscious mind sets in motion some little gesture, some apparently unimportant little twitch of the face, turn of the head, change of the eyes. The real personality, the real John Smith, has nothing to say about those little gestures. He can't stop them. If you know what to look for, you can come pretty close to the truth about John Smith.

Used in Court

In Europe this new science of gestures has been applied to the court room. Experience has proved that it is entirely beyond the powers of the average man to describe a thing that he is actually saying it. Days are spent in hearing testimony which is absolutely untrustworthy. Lawyers are now able to save a great deal of time.

VETERAN AND HIS AGED WIFE DIES IN SWOLLEN CREEK

Daughter and Her Baby Rescued at Point of Death from Icy Waters

ATTEMPTED TO CROSS SPAN

Water Covered Flooring and Bridge Fell When the Sleigh Reached
the Center

Isaac Groves, 80, prominent farmer near Viroqua, Wis., and a veteran of the civil war, and his wife, aged 79, were drowned in Spring Creek late yesterday afternoon when the bob sleigh with which they were driving home from an aid society meeting capsized in the swollen stream.

Two Are Saved

A daughter, Mrs. Hattie Mills, and her four-year-old daughter were saved. When the sleigh turned over in the rushing water, Mrs. Mills was holding her infant daughter in her arms. The baby was fast asleep. Mrs. Mills caught a half submerged fence in the water and called for help. A farmer in an adjacent field who was bringing his cows from pasture heard her frantic calls and went to her aid. Mrs. Mills' aged father and mother had disappeared, and it was 11 o'clock last night before either of the bodies were recovered.

The body of Mrs. Groves was found about eighty rods downstream. It had lodged against a small bridge. Mr. Groves' body was not found until 8 o'clock this morning. His body was seen floating against an uprooted tree trunk.

With two daughters and their granddaughter, Mr. and Mrs. Groves had been attending a meeting of an aid society of which they were members, three miles near their farm home near Viroqua. They debated the question as to whether the weak bridge over Spring Creek was safe to cross. A stranger with a rig who had crossed a half hour before was consulted, and he said the small structure was safe.

Attempt Crossing

When Mr. Groves, who was driving, reached the bridge, he found the water even higher than he had expected, and covering the flooring. The party waited a few minutes and then decided to attempt the crossing. As the sleigh reached the main part of the sunken bridge the planks gave away.

Mrs. Mills can relate little of the story of the fatal plunge into the icy stream. She tried to talk this morning, but her physicians would not allow much conversation.

Her father occupied the front of the sleigh. Mrs. Mills and her mother were in the rear with Mrs. Mills' child. Suddenly, according to Mrs. Mills, the sleigh lurched forward and sideways simultaneously, and the four persons were thrown into the stream. The water was about fourteen feet deep.

Mrs. Mills could only look after her baby. It was sleeping peacefully in her arms. She can remember little aside from catching hold of a sunken fence and calling for help. She had nearly lost consciousness when farmers lifted her and the baby from the water. The baby was nearly dead from the effects of the icy water, but it is said it will live.

Search All Night

Word was rushed to relatives at Viroqua, and a score of persons began a search for the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Groves which lasted all night. Lanterns were brought and the stream searched for two miles.

Mr. and Mrs. Groves celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary on September 5. They have been residents of the vicinity of Viroqua for more than fifty years. They were members of the Viroqua Methodist church, and had scores of friends and relatives in the city.

But for the fact that Mrs. Fred Wise, a daughter of Albert, Canada, decided to stop off and visit a friend, she would probably have met the fate of her father and mother. She had also attended the aid society meeting and was returning to Viroqua with her parents and sister. She left the party a mile before the accident happened.

Five Daughters Survive

Mr. and Mrs. Groves are survived by four daughters and a son. They are: Mrs. Louis Thompson, Springfield; Lee Groves, who had returned recently to his home in Canada; Mrs. Mamie Smith, Alberta, Canada; Mrs. Wise, and Mrs. Mills. Mrs. Smith was on a train bringing her to Viroqua when the accident occurred. A telegram reached her at Winnipeg, Canada.

UNITED SUPPORT IS PLEGGED WILSON IN THE UPPER HOUSE

Both Parties Promise to Stand Against German Orders

AMBASSADOR IS DOUBTED

Leaders Aver Bernstorff in Saying Germany Would Postpone Action Spoke
Without Authority

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Support from both republicans and democrats in the senate was promised for the administration's stand against recognition of Germany's new admiralty order to sink armed merchantmen without warning beginning March 1.

Two branches of the government considered final formulation of policies regarding submarine warfare. With negotiations between the state department and the German embassy apparently at a standstill for the moment, President Wilson and his cabinet and the senate debated the nation's future course.

Today's cabinet meeting had to consider the question of whether a formal protest would be made to Germany against the new decree. It was believed the administration would decide against a preliminary protest and await actual developments.

Bernstorff Doubted

Administration leaders professed little reliance today in suggestions from German Ambassador Bernstorff that Germany may postpone the proposed campaign against armed merchant vessels, believing Bernstorff's suggestion made on his own responsibility, without authority of the Berlin foreign office, and prompted by a desire to get an immediate settlement of the Lusitania case.

Allies' Delay Bothersome

Delay of the entente allies in formally advising the United States of their proposed course regarding merchantmen is hampering American negotiations with Berlin. The joint note from the allies, promised by British Ambassador Spring-Rice, has not yet been transmitted.

Independent of any position the allies may assume, however, the administration is now practically committed to the demand for a pledge from Germany that all future submarine warfare comply with established international code.

JUDGE FLAYS AND MAX AFFELDT PAYS

Appearing in county court today, Max Affeldt, president of the old soldiers' and widows' relief commission, assumed responsibility for the county funds diverted through misappropriation of checks drawn to the order of Mrs. Martha Wenslow, 724 North Tenth street, making good the entire sum of $128 to the county. Judge John Brindley sent Affeldt about his business after reading him a severe lecture.

EIGHT HUNDRED SHIPS IN YEAR IS FRUIT OF VON TIRPITZ CAMPAIGN

RESULTS OF ONE YEAR OF THE VON TIRPITZ CAMPAIGN

About 800 vessels of a total tonnage of 1,400,000 sunk by submarines.
Two thousand non-combatants, including 118 Americans killed.
From eighteen to forty German submarines sunk by allied warships or trapped in nets.
England declared a virtual blockade of Germany as reprisal against torpedoings.
Germany involved in serious controversies with the United States.

LONDON, Feb. 18.—Extraordinary precautions to guard against submarine attacks were taken today by commanders of all British ships within the war zone.

Today is the first anniversary of the inauguration by the Germans of the Von Tirpitz policy of torpedoing merchant steamers. For several days rumors have been reaching Dutch cities that the Teuton U-boat commanders would make a supreme effort to observe the anniversary by sending several vessels to the bottom.

Announcement in Interview

Grand Admiral Von Tirpitz first made public Germany's plans to revolutionize naval warfare by sinking merchantmen in an exclusive interview with the United Press more than a year ago. The order went into effect a year ago today. According to estimates from German sources more than 800 allied and neutral merchantmen, with a total

SEARCH FOR POISON BOTTLE GIVEN UP BY OPET CASE PROBERS

State Admits Defeat in Effort to Find Missing

ANALYZE GREENHOUSE POISON

Authorities Try to Link Poison Found on McCormick Estate With That Which Killed the Girl

WAUKEGAN, Ill., Feb. 18.—Lake county officials today had definitely given up hope of finding the bottle which contained the poison taken or administered to Marian Lambert, for whose murder William H. Orpet, Wisconsin university junior, is held.

State's Attorney Dady announced today that searchers, who had combed the woods where the girl's body was found, had been called off the task.

Discovery of the missing bottle would have been the last link in the chain of evidence woven about Orpet, officials had declared.

Balked in this search, authorities turned their attention today to another method of linking Orpet with the poison taken by Marian. They secured new samples of poisons found in the cellar of the greenhouse of the Cyrus H. McCormick estate, where Orpet's father was employed, and sent these to Chicago for comparative analysis with the poisons found in Marian's stomach. Analysis of the latter will be completed tomorrow and the results made known at the inquest, to be held Monday.

At the inquest, to be held in a little undertaking establishment at Lake Forest, young Orpet will not testify, it was made known today. The state plans to reveal its entire chain of evidence. The defense will not expose its contention until the trial in one of the northern Illinois circuit courts, to which a change of venue will be taken if Orpet is indicted.

The grand jury meets March 6. State's Attorney Dady is expected to urge immediate trial, in the March term of court, if Orpet is indicted.

Briefs and Arguments to Be Submitted by Counsel for City and Company
Within Few Days

Personal inspection of the power plant and equipment of the Wisconsin Railway Light and Power company in La Crosse was the closing chapter of the street car investigation concluded here yesterday by State Railroad Commissioner Alexander. At the close of the testimony in the session at the city hall yesterday, Mr. Alexander visited the car barn and power station with the commission's engineer, F. C. Ang, and F. W. Kassebaum, Jr., consulting engineer employed by the company. He left last night for Fall River, where another utility hearing is scheduled.

City officials today did not expect a decision from the commission for several months. The evidence taken here will be compiled and discussed by the board at Madison, supplemented by briefs and arguments which will be submitted by City Attorney J. E. Higbee and the company's counsel, George H. Gordon, within a few days.

That a substantial alteration of the routing of the local system, with recommendations for improvement in equipment will be embodied in the commission's ruling was the guess today of city hall attaches who followed the hearing closely.

Mayor A. A. Bentley and Rev. W. J. Peacock of the First Baptist church were the chief speakers at the annual Washington-Lincoln celebration held by Wilson Colwell post of the Grand Army in their room at the court house last night. More than 150 persons attended the celebration, including the Woman's Relief Corps and the Sons of Veterans.

Mayor Bentley spoke on Lincoln, urging that the nation be prepared to supplement its trust in divine protection with patriotism and devotion. Rev. Peacock discussed "The Leadership of Washington."

A supper served at 6:30 opened the gathering. A program of readings and patriotic songs supplemented the two chief addresses.

LONDON, Feb. 18.—Russian forces forming the right wing of the grand duke's Caucasus army are within fifty miles of the important Turkish Black seaport of Trebizond, according to dispatches received here today.

The ancient city of Baiburt on the road from Erzerum to Trebizond has been captured, it was reported. The Slavs are pushing on toward the Pontine mountains, barring their march on Trebizond.

The capture of Trebizond is expected within another fortnight. Advances from Petrograd today said it was considered certain that the grand duke would send a force against the city before pressing his campaign against the Turks to the westward.

The Russian authorities already have taken steps to ameliorate the condition of the Armenians. A tribunal will be established in Erzerum as soon as possible and investigations of Turkish atrocities against the Armenians will be begun at once. Wholesale executions of Turkish civil officers responsible for the outrages are predicted.

SWEDES WARNED NOT TO TRAVEL ON ARMED SHIPS

Warning Given in Reply to Teutonic Orders as Against Armed Merchantmen

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The Swedish government, in reply to the German and Austrian proclamation that armed merchantmen will be attacked without warning after February 29, has issued a warning to Swedish citizens not to travel on such vessels.

The Swedish foreign office has instructed its consular and diplomatic representatives throughout the world to issue such warnings to all Swedish citizens in their territory and to specifically warn those who have engaged passage aboard armed liners.

The action of the Swedish government caused tremendous interest in Washington. It was pointed out that those who have insisted the United States should take just such a step would seize upon the announcement as strengthening their position. Sweden is known to be friendly to Germany, however, and in some quarters it is believed the German government may have influenced her action for the effect it may have in America.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Secretary McAdoo today asked congress for additional appropriations to hasten work on public buildings already authorized. Among the requests were:

UNFROCKED PRIEST'S LAST WORD IS FOR MOTHER IN GERMANY

"Please Give My Mother

Condemned Man Before
Life Is Snuffed Out

EXECUTION HIGHLY DRAMATIC

Chaplain Holds Crucifix and Chants But Schmidt Interrupts with Last Statement

CRIES GOODBYE TO CONVIC

Man Who Will Follow
Schmidt to Chair Exhorted Over Chant of the Chaplain

OSSINING, N. Y., Feb. 18.—Striding boldly ahead of his attendants, but stopping abruptly on the brink of death to express his last good wish to his mother, Hans Schmidt, the unfrocked New York priest, died in the electric chair at Sing Sing at dawn today for the murder of his sweetheart, Anna Aumuller.

Seldom have more dramatic scenes been witnessed in the famous death chamber than that presented as Schmidt stood before the chair, an ebony and silver crucifix held before him, addressing the witnesses of his execution in a last farewell to his mother.

"Please give my mother my last good wish. It is for her," were the condemned man's last words, except for the repetition of a prayer as the deadly electrodes were adjusted.

The dying statement of Schmidt, made from directly in front of the chair, was entirely unexpected. He was going to his death for having killed Anna Aumuller, cutting her body to pieces and casting it into the East river.

Through his attorney he had issued a statement last night denying that he had killed the Aumuller girl and asserting that she died from the effects of an illegal operation. Schmidt was calm and collected as he walked to the chair, shouting good-byes to twenty other condemned men in the death house. Father Cashin, the prison chaplain, the guards and Keeper Fred Dorner, who directed the execution, were astounded at Schmidt's hurried movements and disregard for the measured pace of the death march when he suddenly turned as the rubber mat in front of the chair was reached.

Scarcely had the seventeen witnesses seated themselves when Keeper Fred Dorner stepped through the little green door and strode to where Schmidt, crucifix in hand, jaw set, walked beside his spiritual adviser, Father Cashin.

Mingled with Father Cashin's slow, deep toned prayer, came the loud cry of Schmidt to the other condemned men.

"Good-bye, good-bye. One and all, good-bye," he called. "And good-bye especially to Watson."

Cries Farewell to Friend
Watson is doomed to die next for wife murder.

Scattered replies came from the hidden condemned men.

"Good-bye, good-bye, Schmidt, good-bye."

His long ebony and silver crucifix held aloft before him, Schmidt snapped aside the reaching arms of waiting guards and rasped sharply:

"One minute, please, one minute, until I say my say."

The guards, at first mistaking Schmidt's action for a struggle against seating himself with death, stepped back in surprise at the sound of the condemned man's voice.

Ignoring them Schmidt addressed the men sitting on the witness benches, breathless with expectancy. "Pardon me," he said. "I beg the forgiveness of all whom I have offended and of all whom I have scandalized. I forgive all who have offended against me."

Interrupts Priest

"My Lord and my God, I must," interrupted Father Cashin in an admonishing tone, but Schmidt, repeating the words hurriedly after their third repetition by the priest, hastened on with his dying statement.

"My last thought is for my mother," rang his voice, sharp and clear against the silence of the little room. "Please give my mother my last good wish. It is for her."

"My Lord and my God," again interrupted Father Cashin. Schmidt then began quietly repeating the prayer, sat down at its conclusion.

TOMAH IS AFTER BASKET HONORS OF UNITED STATES

Cardinals Will Try for the Championship of Country in Six Final Games with Fond du Lac

FOND DU LAC CLAIMED 1915 CHAMP

Opponents Are Salaried; Red Wing Coach Has Been Employed to Give Tomah Men Final Training

TOMAH, Wis., Feb. 18.—(Special)—The Tomah Cardinals are still after something big. They are now trying for the championship of the United States. Fond du Lac has claimed the championship of the United States for the past two years. The Tomah boys have played all the preliminary games and are now after Fond du Lac. Three games are scheduled for February 24, 25 and 26. The 24th and 26th to be played at Tomah and the 25th at Mauston. The Fond du Lac team is a salaried team and will receive $500.00 and all expenses to come to Tomah. Manager McCauley went to Fond du Lac on Thursday to sign the contract for the three big games.

A coach from Red Wing, Minn., has been engaged to give the boys some final coaching during the week before the games.

The Tomah Cardinals won from Rice Lake on Tuesday night by a score of 34 to 7.

The high school team will play the La Crosse high school Friday night. This game will practically decide the championship of this section of the state.

Mrs. Abercrombie Leaves

Mrs. Jane Abercrombie left for Chicago on Thursday after a week of social activities and her concert on Wednesday night. Tomah practically claims Mrs. Abercrombie as a Tomah girl. She was formerly Miss Lulu Jones, born in Tunnel City, but she received her education in the Tomah schools. She went to Chicago where she studied music, after which she sang in grand opera for about two years. After that she studied in Germany for two years and was about to go on the stage when the war broke out and she returned to the United States. During the summer she made an extensive tour singing in all the large cities of the west. She was about to begin her last work when she was called to Toledo by the serious illness of her little daughter, and she was obliged to cancel all engagements, until recently when she has made short concert trips.

Local and Personal
Miss Rose Kress, after a short visit at her home in Tomah, left for Rochester, where she has accepted a position in the library department of the Rochester sanitarium, as private secretary to Dr. Mayo. Miss Kress has just resigned a position as a private secretary in one of the banks in Chicago.

Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Bartel entertained the "500" club on Thursday evening in honor of Mrs. Abercrombie and Mrs. Bowler of Sheboygan.

Mrs. F. M. Hart entertained the Auction club on Thursday afternoon in honor of the visiting ladies.

Mr. Steinstra and family have gone to Grand Rapids to make their future home. Mr. Steinstra has been transferred by the government to have charge of the Winnebago Indians.

Mrs. George Yackel of Wilton, Wis., is the guest of Mrs. Phil Yackel. John Brahmer of La Crosse was calling on friends in Tomah the first of the week.

Father Furst spent Thursday in Sparta.

Miss Gertrude O'Leary spent last Thursday in La Crosse.

Mrs. Alois A. Fix and Mrs. Fred S. Barrows went to La Crosse on Thursday for a visit with friends.

L. M. Compton went to St. Paul on Thursday on business.

AITKEN SAYS
FILM IS MIRACLE

Harry E. Aitken, president of the Triangle Film Company, wrote as follows: "I have lived a miracle. For one hour, while sitting in a comfortable chair, my sight, my feelings, my whole being has really lived through the tense dramatic moments in the lives of men and women two thousand miles away from where I sat."

And the miracle was that I, the spectator, was also an actor in that wonderful master-picture that I had loved, hated and schemed with the characters as they played their parts before my eyes. And as the last scene of "On the Night Stage" faded, I realized that I do live in the age of miracles. You shall see and live this miracle as I have lived it, you will forget my enthusiasm in your own."

"On the Night Stage" was produced by Thos. H. Ince. In it are featured William S. Hart, Robert Edson and Rhea Mitchell. It is the story of a sky pilot, a road agent, a dancing girl, and a "skunk". There is a fight scene in which William Hart, as Texas Smith, the road agent, and Robert Edson, as the sky pilot, fight a bar room full of tough characters and they whip the bunch. This fight scene is more realistic and more exciting than the famous fight scene in "The Spoilers."

"On the Night Stage" will be the Friday and Saturday feature at the Casino.

Doctor Says Nuxated Iron Will Increase Strength of Delicate People 200% in Ten Days

In many instances—Persons have suffered untold agony for years doctoring for nervous weakness, stomach, liver or kidney disease or some other ailment when their real trouble was lack of iron in the blood.—How to tell.

New York, N. Y.—In a recent discourse Dr. E. Sauer, Specialist, of this city said: "If you were to make an actual blood test on all people who are ill you would probably be greatly astonished at the exceedingly large number who lack iron and who are ill for no other reason than the lack of iron. The moment iron is supplied all their multitude of dangerous symptoms disappear. Without iron the blood at once loses the power to change food into living tissue and therefore nothing you eat does you any good; you don't get the strength out of it. Your food merely passes through your system like corn through a mill with the rollers so wide apart that the mill can't grind. As a result of this continuous blood and nerve starvation, people become generally weakened, nervous and all run down and frequently develop all sorts of conditions. One is too thin; another is burdened with unhealthy fat; some are so weak they can hardly walk; some think they have dyspepsia, kidney or liver trouble; some can't sleep at night, others are sleepy and tired all day; some fussy and irritable; some skiny and bloodless, but all lack physical power and endurance. In such cases, it is worse than foolishness to take stimulating medicines or narcotic drugs, which only whip up your fagging vital powers for the moment, maybe at the expense of your life later on. No matter what any one tells you, if you are not strong and well you owe it to yourself to make the following test. See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary nuxated iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of nervous run down people who were ailing all the time double, and even triple their strength and endurance and entirely get rid of their symptoms of dyspepsia, liver and other troubles in from ten to fourteen days' time simply by taking iron in the proper form, and this, after they had in some cases been doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit. You can talk as you please about all the wonders wrought by new remedies, but when you come down to hard facts there is nothing like good old iron to put color in your cheeks and good sound, healthy flesh on your bones. It is also a great nerve and stomach strengthener and the best blood builder in the world. The only trouble was that the old forms of inorganic iron like tincture of iron, iron acetate, etc., often ruined people's teeth, upset their stomachs and were not assimilated and for these reasons they frequently did more harm than good. But with the discovery of the newer forms of organic iron all this has been overcome. Nuxated Iron for example, is pleasant to take, does not injure the teeth and is almost immediately beneficial.

NOTE—The manufacturers of Nuxated Iron have such unbounded confidence in its potency that they authorize the announcement that they will forfeit $100.00 to any Charitable Institution if they cannot take any man or woman under sixty who lacks iron and increase their strength 200 per cent or over in four weeks' time, provided they have no serious organic trouble. Also they will refund your money in any case in which Nuxated Iron does not at least double your strength in ten days' time. It is dispensed in this city by Mariner's Pharmacy and all other druggists.

ARTHUR SHATTUCK A PUPIL OF GRIEG

Pianist Who Will Appear in Normal Concert Monday Night Protege of Famous Norwegian Composer

The Norwegian composer, Edward Grieg, will always be gratefully remembered by every young artist who was so fortunate as to come under his influence. Among those whose gifts attracted his interest, was Arthur Shattuck, the young American pianist, who spent much of his time as a student in the Scandinavian countries. While in Bergen, he studied the Grieg A Minor Concerto with the composer, and after the death of the latter, he was invited to play it at a great memorial concert given in Copenhagen.

In speaking of this concerto, Grieg said: "To play the second movement as I intended it should be played, one must have seen a summer night in Norway."

Mr. Shattuck will play in the Normal Auditorium next Monday evening.

The Standard Remedy in Countless Homes

Relieves Constipation Easily Without Gripping or Discomfort.

Indigestion and constipation are two conditions that are closely related and the cause of much physical suffering.

The tendency to indulge one's appetite is more or less general and most people suffer at one time or another from rebellion of the overtaxed organs of digestion and elimination. A pleasantly effective remedy, that will quickly relieve the congestion of poisonous stomach waste and restore regularity, is the compound of simple laxative herbs sold in drug stores for fifty cents a bottle under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This is a mild, pleasant laxative tonic, free from opiates or narcotic drugs, and has been the standard household remedy in thousands of homes for many years.

Mrs. Oliver Young, Merrill, Wis., writing to Dr. Caldwell, says, "I know of nothing so effective for regulating the stomach and bowels; since taking Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin she feels ten years younger; her work seems easier and she has

NEWS NOTES from MOVIELAND

69 DAISY DEAN

It looks as if Alexander Gaden, the leading man starred by the Gaumont Company in five-reel features, would be allowed to play only professional men. His first picture, "As a Woman Sows," presented him as a young lawyer who had been elected as a reform mayor. Then he followed this with the strong part of the minister in "The Drifter." Now Gaumont is to release as a Mutual Masterpicture, de luxe edition, Miss Marjorie Howe's "I Accuse!" with Mr. Gaden as a young lawyer who has just been elected to the bench.

Life in a small town is faithfully mirrored in this latter picture, which tells the story of a minister with an ungovernable temper. In a fit of blind rage, he is tricked into striking his coachman and later is led to believe that the man has died. He is sentenced to prison by the young judge who loves his daughter.

Charlotte Walker

Picked by Public
Following the policy of letting the public do the picking, Miss Charlotte Walker was signed to a long contract by the Jesse L. Lasky Photoplay Company after canvassing the entire country for the public's vote. Miss Walker completely won her way into the hearts of the movie fans when she appeared in the film play of "Kindling." She will be seen again shortly in "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine."

"Sons of Satan"

Has Unusual Plot

An unusual plot, in which a crook masks as a detective, with many complicating and thrilling climaxes, is offered in "Sons of Satan," a lavish five-part photodrama which Red Feather will shortly release on their feature program. It was staged under the direction of George L. Tucker, who produced "Traffic in Souls," and is said to be a masterly production.

Vivian Martin, starred in the William Fox production of Israel Zangwill's masterpiece, "Merely Mary Ann," is resting prior to beginning work in her second picture for Mr. Fox. Miss Martin rests by skating ten or twelve hours a day and by Alexander Gaden.

This popular Mutual star is a Canadian and was born in Montreal just thirty-six years ago. Before going into moving pictures four years ago he was on the legitimate stage, where he played in stock.

playing basket ball or driving her automobile the rest of the time.

"Bullets and Brown Eyes" is the title Bessie Barriscale herself gave to a romance of a mythical kingdom in which she will soon appear on the Triangle program. She is the Brown Eyes.

E. K. Lincoln has been somewhat lost to view since he deserted Anita Stewart as his leading lady. He is now located with Lubin and will make his first appearance opposite Ethel Clayton.

Do you know that Wallace Reid, whom everyone remembers as Gertrude Farrar's Don Jose, played the part of a little girl at the age of 4?

CONTE SCARED BY BOMB AND WOULD LEAVE MILWAUKEE

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 18.—Arminio Conte, Italian consular agent, is seeking to be transferred from this city on account of a recent attempt made on his life by an unknown Italian who placed two bombs in his apartments, according to reports current here. It is said that he fears another attempt on his life. Conte is in New York and no confirmation of the reports could be procured.

SANDWICH CAUSE OF TROUBLE

MERRILL, Wis., Feb. 18.—Tracing his troubles to a sandwich he stole in Oshkosh three years ago, Conrad Grueninger yesterday was taken to Waupun penitentiary to start a twelve year sentence for forgery.

After stealing the sandwich he was sentenced to Green Bay reformatory for three years but was paroled. He broke his parole several times which led the judge to impose such a severe sentence for forgery.

You may have noticed that a man who says life isn't worth living is the first to make an effort to save himself when danger threatens.

"Tell Me the Secret"

"How do you make such delicious muffins? Mine are always so dry. And if I make the batter thin they fall. How do you do it?"

"I make them about as you do, only I use K C Baking Powder. Mine always turn out well, so it must be the baking powder."

It is the baking powder. To make muffins, cakes and pastry rich and moist, yet light and feathery, a modern double acting baking powder must be used—one that will give off leavening gas in the oven as well as in the mixing bowl.

K C Baking Powder costs less than the old fashioned quick acting kinds, yet you need use no more and it is superior to them in every way.

Try a can at our risk and be convinced.

BLOOD HOUNDS

The tendency of departments of justice to utterly ignore justice in their quest of convictions is well illustrated in the Orpet case.

The authorities have left no stone unturned in their effort to discover where Orpet got the poison that killed Marian Lambert, but it is not recorded that they have spent an hour in running down the possibility that the girl herself may have purchased it.

Not until officers of justice seek the facts, rather than to make a case, will they deserve the name they bear.

THE CARDINAL TOO LIBERAL

"We seem to forget that he is one of us, that he is entitled to our friendship as long as he is worthy of it. It has not been proved that he is not worthy of that friendship and yet we are withholding it," The Cardinal.

Measured by the facts, this is rather a sad statement for a student of education in the state university to make.

Young Orpet has not been proven the murderer of the Lambert girl, and while each individual has the right to follow his own reasoning from the facts as he understands them, the students and all other citizens should remember that the law looks him innocent until officially found guilty and should give him the full benefit of the doubt.

But Orpet's own admissions challenge the Cardinal's assertion that he is not worthy of our friendship. If he may be credited, the alleged slayer of Marian Lambert was a free-blower with women, a man without principle as to his social relationships. That a college paper regards this as no bar to esteem is dangerously suggestive, in view of gossip concerning a tendency to gross liberality in such matters in our universities. We've a notion that Orpet might be vindicated as to the murder charge tomorrow without recovering the respect of many old-fashioned people who still cling to the threadbare garment of chastity.

"READY TO SERVE"

Mr. Hligbee made a tremendous case against the quality and adequacy of La Crosse street car service, and it is well that with every witness he drove home to Commissioner Alexander one vitally important fact—the fact that the commissions experts made their observations after the complaint had been filed, when the company knew it was being checked up and was therefore making special efforts to present a reasonable showing, and withal, in relatively decent weather. The impressive array of representative citizens who testified on behalf of the city must, it would seem, have carried weight that will be considered by the commission together with the reports of its own engineers and investigators. Nor do we believe Superintendent Peter Valier's notion of fair service, as disclosed in his testimony, will lack influence in shaping in the minds of the commissioners a verdict favorable to La Crosse car patrons.

Hardly had the hearing closed when the service lapsed into its worst form. Patrons stood at the corner of Fifth and Main streets from 6 o'clock until 6:18 last evening, waiting for a sixteenth street car. At that time two sixteenth street cars appeared. One loaded at Fourth street and passed Fifth without stopping, passengers jamming every available inch of space in the car, upon both platforms, both front and rear steps, and two hanging to the rear fender. The other car, following, stopped at Fifth and Main. Pack them in as the willing conductor would, one man could not get in. Men struggled to get their hands into their pockets to produce their fares. It was literally a jam to the bottom steps.

The lighting company could save a lot of money could it operate with equipment sufficient only for its average demand. It does not rest there. Its "readiness to serve" is equal to the necessity of its peak load. The car company, too, should abandon the idea of carrying its peak load with an equipment barely comfortable for the handling of its average business. We expect the state railway commission may entertain some such notion as this.

JAPS HOLD "HELLO" CELEBRATION

The Japanese empire is celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of the installation of the telephone in its boundaries. The first telephone was installed in Tokyo, in 1891 by John J. Carter, an American. Now there are nearly 1,200 exchange offices in the empire with some 250,000 subscribers. The system represents an investment of $26,000,000 which yields over $5,000,000 annual profits.

A feature of the present celebration is the award of prizes to telephone girls and linemen who have been longest in service. The oldest telephone girl will receive a gift of $100 from the government and an increase of salary. She is a widow and has been eighteen years in service. She can retire with a pension in seven years. One lineman, still in service, worked upon the first installation. He also receives a prize and an increase in salary and the privilege of pensioned retirement.

The Japanese Diet is to appropriate $10,000,000 at its next session toward the further extension of the national telephone service.

PROVINCETOWN

Provincetown has the best claim on record to being called a city of the sea. She is the only town in America that ever went for a swim.

A long time ago the city stood out on the curving sand beach that shelters the inner harbor. The government decided that to protect the bay from the inroads of sea-sand, it would be necessary to move the town. So Provincetown set sail, and was floated across the water to its present site. You can still see the schoolhouse that was the flagship of that adventurous fleet.

Provincetown is one of the most historic spots on the continent. Here is where the Pilgrims of the Mayflower really made their first landing. Plymouth Rock gets all the credit, but Provincetown is where it belongs. The first election on American soil was held here, by that emigrating boatload. They little knew what they were starting.

Provincetown is built on the long and narrow principle. The geography of Cape Cod makes such a scheme inevitable. Commercial Street runs leisurely parallel with the ocean; as you stroll along you have the two sides of Cape Cod life, one on either hand. To your right are the sparkling waters, where the men of Provincetown have earned their bread and a little butter for three centuries; to the left are old New England houses whose memory they carried with them into all the ports of earth.

Truly the sea has given Provincetown much, even the best of the earth on which she stands. You wonder how such great trees and bright-hued flowers thrive in the sandy soil of the Cape—until you hear how the fruit boats returning from southern waters brought home ballast of rich tropic soil.

The city is full of signs of the sea. Her prim gardens are decorated with ship's cannon, with the figureheads of lost vessels. You notice the half of an empty oil barrel—the sperm, not the Standard variety—where the children sail paper boats. The sea laps up into people's back yards. Even down the narrow lanes that twist back from the water front, the smell of salt spray and the diapason of surf is always with you. Provincetown is an elderly mermaid, a proper and dignified daughter of Neptune.

Mary's Answer

For half an hour the teacher patiently instructed her class in the art of telling the time.

"Now," she said at last, as she pointed to the big clock on the wall, "you may be the first to tell me the time, Mary Brown."

Full of importance, Mary turned and studied the dial. Then she faced her teacher again, her eyes shining with triumph.

"Please, miss," she said, "it's just one inch past 11."—Philadelphia Record.

GALL STONES ELIMINATED

Nine years ago while under treatment of my physician, he advised me that it would be necessary to perform an operation for Gall Stones, or I would never get well. I procured Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root and after taking eight bottles was entirely cured. Am glad to say that I have never had a return of this trouble and would gladly recommend Swamp-Root to anyone so troubled.

Yours truly,

Prove What Swamp-Root Will Do For You

Send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample size bottle. It will convince anyone. You will also receive a booklet of valuable information, telling about the kidneys and bladder. When writing, be sure and mention, the La Crosse Tribune. Regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles for sale at all drug stores.

KIDNEY TROUBLE LEADS TO TERRIBLE TORTURES

Hundreds of sufferers from pains in the back and sides, bladder and urinary disorders, lumbago, rheumatism, dizziness, puffy swellings under the eyes or in the feet and ankles, nervousness, tired or worn-out or headachy feeling, don't seem to realize that the greater part of all sickness today can be avoided by keeping the kidneys working properly. If you suffer from any of the many agonies that accompany weak, clogged-up or diseased kidneys you should not neglect yourself another day and run the risk of serious complications. Secure a package of Solvax, the wonderful new kidney remedy which is very inexpensive yet acts quickly and surely on the seat of the trouble. You'll be surprised how entirely different you'll feel in a very short time.

It doesn't matter how long you have suffered, how old you are, or what you have used. The very principle of Solvax is such that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without some beneficial results.

Solvax is pleasant to take, gives quick relief and has been so uniformly successful that nearly all leading dealers in this vicinity will in future sell it under a positive guarantee of relief or refund the money. No other kidney remedy we believe ever had a large enough percentage of cures so that it could be sold in this manner. A guarantee like this speaks volumes for the merit of Solvax.

There is no time like the present to do a thing that ought to be done. If anyone has kidney trouble today is the best time to begin curing it.

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

Just the Same

They may turn the rascals out and may put new rascals in,
But the cost of living rises just the same;
They may monkey with the tariff from "bananas" down to "tin,"
But the cost of living rises just the same;
They may jall the malefactors of great wealth for money lust;
They can probe the ways of Wall street and dissolve most every trust;
They can shout for equal liberty and rights until they bust,
But the cost of living rises just the same.

The statesmen can get busy, wave the old flag and orate;

But the cost of living rises just the same;
They may threaten, they may bluster, they may scream and paw the air;
They may plead and they may grovel, and in madness tear their hair;
They may tell of real conditions and the awful truth lay bare,
But the cost of living rises just the same.

Disqualified by Wisdom

The lawyer was examining him concerning his qualifications as a juror.

"Have you ever served on a jury?" he asked.

"No, sir," answered the man. "I've been drawn a good many times, but I was always too smart to get caught on a jury."

"What's that, sir?" interrupted the judge, sternly. "Do you boast of your smartness in escaping jury duty?"

"No, your honor," said the man. "Not at all. When I said I was too smart I meant that I was always excused because the lawyers thought I wasn't ignorant enough."

His Revengeful Disposition

"But why," asked the magistrate, "do you persist in letting oil from your car drip on the asphalt pavement when you know it is detrimental to the street?"

"Well, when I'm traveling, the tar from the freshly tarred roads eats up my tires, and I've got to manage some way to eat some road, to get even."

Who Believes in Signs

In front of one of the fillum theaters this week there was a sign advertising the show:

"THE WOMAN PAYS."

But we noticed that the men had to buy the tickets. Didn't see a woman dig up a cent. Ho-hum! Always thus, Clarice.

The TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE

BY LESLIE CONNER

(Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

One by one the men in the bank returned from their vacations with tales of prowess and skill which varied according to age and circumstances from Mr. Witherspoon, the president, to Johnny Doubleday, who ran errands.

Barrymore was last. "But not least," thought Virginia Dale with amusement. Back in her wire cage, strumming the keys on an adding machine she had heard the wonderful bits of Nimrod history. "These men—how like overgrown boys they are! And now we shall see how Dick Barrymore turns the world around while he is away."

Dick departed to the Canadian woods, and returned as Virginia had predicted, with a story of two wonderful bucks and a moose. The heads were at a taxidermist's and when they were ready the moose was to hang in the bank.

"He's stretched it even further than I thought he would," Virginia commented dubiously. "I doubt if he ever even saw a moose in his life."

In due time the head arrived. It really was wonderful, with antlers like the boughs of an old oak. Barrymore was voted the pride and joy of the Second National and the trophy was given a place of honor near the door.

Virginia stopped her work a minute to watch the hanging. Dick turned at the same instant and their eyes met. Something in the girl's expression made Dick flush. After that, she was doubly sure she was right for Dick had all the appearance of guilt.

A few weeks later, she went into a hardware store to buy a pair of scissors. As she entered, the window display held her, for as a background for a lot of firearms, cartridges and hunting knives, were hung the heads of all kinds of animals.

"That is a fine collection of animals," she said to the salesman.

The old man scratched his head. "Yes—'tis Mr. Mooney's been a heap of years collectin' them things. An' it was a dern sight finer before he sold the moose. I didn't want him to do it."

"The moose? Was there a moose, did you say?"

"Yes'm. That's what I said. The finest head of a bull moose you ever saw in your life."

"Could you—do you know who bought it?"

"Why, yes, I suppose it's down in the day book."

After a rummage in the safe. "Yes, here 'tis. November twenty-ninth. One hundred and seventy-five dollars. Richard D. Barrymore."

"Thank you very much. I agree with you, it was too bad to break the collection. Good afternoon." And Virginia departed.

The next day was Thursday and Virginia had asked for the day off to shop in a city sixty miles away. She boarded an interurban car to return in the afternoon when she saw Dick Barrymore just ahead. The only vacant seat was right behind him and she took it. Dick occupied a seat alone and Virginia knew that the buckled bag beside him contained twenty thousand dollars. Dick brought the bag over every Thursday and put it in the vault upon his return.

"I can't understand it all," she thought, studying his profile. "Of course, Dick likes to talk but who wouldn't get the habit among all those donkeys braying their heads off." She flushed suddenly and looked out of the window, realizing she was trying to defend him to herself. Then defiantly: "But he lied about the moose head to all of us. There's no getting over that."

The trolley ate up miles of flat country, stopping at stations now and then to take on or let off ruralites. Air in the car was close and hot. Dick's eyes closed; then his head rolled sideways and Virginia heard a gentle snore.

By twos and threes along the road, the car was discharging its passengers, but Dick slept on. Virginia became indignant. "If a bank was trusting me to carry all that money I'd deserve the confidence a little better than that. I'd stay awake if I had to pinch myself back and blue."

Hardly anyone was left but themselves. Virginia discovered that even the conductor had disappeared somewhere up front. "If I were dishonest, I could easily appropriate that bag and get off at the next stop."

Then a little imp of mischief perched on a curl just over her ear. "Do it anyway," he whispered, "and give him a scare." And another imp moved her arm over the back of Dick's seat and closed her fingers around the thick leather handle of the bag. Shaking she lifted it over the back and when the car stopped at Truesdale to let a woman on, Virginia got off with Dick's satchel and twenty thousand dollars.

Nothing happened that evening, and her weariness was as keen as her nervousness, for she sat up all night with one hand on the telephone and the other on the bag in case of thieves.

Early the next day, she set out for the bank, arriving before any of the men. She locked the bag in her own closet and waited. But, to her perplexity, there was no commotion, nothing in any way unusual about the routine of business. Dick was his usual assured self and acted as though nothing in the world had happened.

Virginia felt that she must be losing her mind. But, determined to carry her point, she took the bag home again that night.

The bell rang at eight, and she fairly gasped with relief when Dick Barrymore came in.

"Good evening, Miss Dale, I've come, if you don't mind, for my bag."

She started. "So you knew I took it?"

"Yes, I saw you!"

"But—how could you?"

"I was only pretending sleep. There was a rumor I was to be robbed, so I took that way of finding out the guilty one."

"But, if you saw, why did you let me?"

He laughed. "The joke was too good. There wasn't anything in the bag but a few stones. I thought you would find out soon enough. We expressed the money."

"I didn't open it. Really, Mr. Barrymore, I didn't have any idea of taking the money. You see, you were asleep, and I—I thought you were careless and needed a lesson and—"

Dick became very serious and

BURGHARDT-FRANKSEN

Miss Elsa Franksen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Franksen, 715 South Fourth street, and Mr. Herman Burghardt were united in marriage at five o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents. The couple were attended by Miss Selma Franksen, sister of the bride, and Mr. Carl Burghardt, the groom's brother. Rev. J. H. Klaus, of the First German Methodist church, officiated, using the ring ceremony, and the bride was given in marriage by her father. Before the appearance of the bridal party Miss Lilah Major sang "O Promise Me," and Miss Isabel Major played Mendelssohn's Wedding March as the bride entered the parlor upon the arm of her father.

The bride was charming in a gown of white crepe de chine made over a drapery of white lace. Her veil was arranged in cap effect with a wreath of smilax and lilies of the valley, and she carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Selma Franksen wore a frock of pale green crepe de chine with lace trimming, and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses.

Following the ceremony a dinner was served to the guests, covers being laid for forty. The bride's table was centered with a large basket of pink roses and ferns, similar baskets of pink carnations and ferns being used on the other tables. In the parlor was a tall wicker vase filled with pink roses. Smilax was also used to good effect here. A basket of red carnations and candles in red shaded holders graced the top of the piano. The Misses Hazel Lennon, Emma Belling, Isabel Major, Jane Schick and Edna Sorgel assisted in serving.

Dancing furnished entertainment for the guests in the evening, considerable amusement being created by the old-fashioned quadrilles and the Virginia Reel, which were indulged in by young and old alike.

Mr. and Mrs. Burghardt will make their home for the present at 715 South Fourth street. Mr. Burghardt is a cabinet maker employed at the Segelke-Kohlhaus Co.

FORM NEW ORGANIZATION

As a result of the "mixer" at which Mrs. George R. Longbrake, 136 South Eleventh street, entertained the ladies of the Universalist church yesterday afternoon, a new organization was formed the purpose of which is to promote closer fellowship and co-operation among the women of the church, the name to be "The Universalist Woman's Social Union." The chairman of the four divisions into which the union is to be divided, together with the president, will form the executive committee, and at least one and not to exceed three social affairs will be held through the year. There was a large attendance and all present became charter members of the new organization.

A short informal program was a feature of the meeting, talks being given as follows:

"The Women and the Sunday School" Mrs. J. A. Fairchild.
"The Women and St. Paul League" Mrs. William Yeo.

F. R. A. VAUDEVILLE

The vaudeville program given by the F. R. A. Dramatic club last night at the K. P. hall, pleased a large and enthusiastic audience and from the start to the finish there was not a dull moment. The new stage and effects that the order has acquired added greatly to the success of the performance. Dorothy Ledegar in her two vocal numbers, together with those rendered by Marshal Cohen, received applause worthy of professional actors and both responded to encores. Master Charles Weiss proved that he is an apt student of the classical studies on the piano and for one of his years proved a delight and wonder to the audience. The vaudeville sketch "Mistaken Identity" gave a whirlwind finish to the program that got to the audience by its snappy action and humorous situations. The straight parts taken by A. C. Radke, Alice Mockley, Bessie Clark and Jessie Ruplin in their various roles, showed their experience and training in the dramatic art from past events in this line and proved their marked ability. The comedy parts taken by Ruth Atkinson, Bertha Skalland and Laura Scholberg, brought rounds of laughter from the audience and the latter was especially clever in the part of a German immigrant. Monica Wermuth who presided at the piano for all the musical numbers in the show, added greatly to the success, by quickly picking up the cues for the musical situations. A dance followed the performance and the order met with a social and financial success by this event.

Society Leader May Fight Smuggling Charge

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—Whether Mrs. Charlotte A. Warren, a wealthy New York society woman, wife of Whitney Warren, the architect, will fight the government's smuggling charge is the question which the wealthy friends of the accused woman and the custom house officials are anxious to have answered. Mrs. Warren has already appeared in the Federal District court and entered a plea of not guilty, and she was given until tomorrow, February 19, to decide whether she would, alter or stand by this plea.

about ten thousand dollars, which she brought with her when she arrived from France in November. Mrs. Warren, it is stated in the indictment, placed a value of only $1,500 on her clothes, and explained this sum to the customs officers on the ground that she had managed to pick up some "war bargains" and that three of her dresses, although originally of foreign make, had already been brought into this country and had the duty paid on them, but had been remodeled abroad to fit the prevailing fashions.

The case attracted a good deal of attention, not only on account of the social prominence of the defendant, but because this is said to be the first case in which the undervaluation charge on account of goods imported irregularly has ever been brought against a person not engaged in trade.

"Galt-Wilson Hat" To Appear Saturday

CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—The Galt-Wilson hat—the newest creation in spring millinery—will be displayed for the first time tomorrow when it takes its place among the designs at the eighteenth semi-annual meeting of the National Association of Retail Milliners at the La Salle hotel. Miss Marie S. Harris, president of the association, designed the hat from the orchid hat President Wilson admired so much on his bride.

The Galt-Wilson hat is made of delicate orchid shades of Georgette crepe trimmed with orchids. It is different from nearly all other spring millinery in that it has a brim. It is for evening wear.

Most of the spring hats are small and brimless. One tall hat, rim turned up into four sections, is known as the Leap Year hat, and warns bachelors that "it'll get 'em if they don't watch out."

Then there is the George Washington hat, the folding hat, the submarine hat, the Zeppelin hat, all "modes of the moment."

Fight to Save Condemned Woman

CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—Discovery of a new evidence and a retraction of Mrs. Ida Bell Warren's confession is counted on by the national anti-capital punishment society today to save Mrs. Warren from the electric chair, in which she is sentenced to die on March 3, at Winston-Salem, North Carolina.

M. B. Kovnat, secretary of the society, said today that Mrs. Warren's confession that she had killed Samuel Christy in the murder of her husband was secured under third degree methods and has been retracted. Christy, also, is sentenced to die March 3.

The North Carolina W. C. T. U. entered the fight to save Mrs. Warren today, Kovnat declared.

Douglas of this city, who is in Paris working in the American hospital, the genius of the hospital is Miss Grace Gassette of Chicago, who was formerly an art student. She has invented new kinds of bandages to meet war conditions, and she has fifty volunteer assistants turning out big quantities of surgical dressings.

FEDERAL MONOPOLY WINS IN DEBATE

Franklins Decide That the Government Should Make All Its Own Munitions

In a somewhat heated discussion in his rebuttal, William J. McGaughren was the deciding factor in the weekly debate of the Franklin club, which was held last evening in Fielstad hall. The jury, composed of Dr. A. R. Kemper, Mark Peterman, and Laine Curley rendered a 2 to 1 decision for the affirmative. The question debated was "Resolved: That the United States government should have a monopoly over the manufacture and sale of munitions of war." The affirmative was upheld by William J. McGaughren and Harry Robinson; their opponents being Russell Webb, and Professor Harry Spence.

Not Ready For Spain

William J. McGaughren gave to the audience a vivid picture of the Spanish-American war in which he declared that the United States at that time was not prepared to engage in war. He stated further that if the United States had had a monopoly of the munitions trade, this would not have occurred and that the present struggle in Europe shows the very same thing. Germany had a monopoly while England and her allies did not have and the result is shown by Germany's victories.

Professor Harry Spence argued that if the United States took over the munitions factories the machinery in them would only be idle and would in the end be useless. Mr. Spence stated further that at the present time there is no need for the United States to engage in the manufacture of munitions of war. He said that the manufacturing plants can be made to give their output to the United States government if the government so desires.

Sale Not Neutral

Russell Webb, leader of the negative stated that if the United States government should go into the man-

Administration Plans Answer
WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Democratic leaders today planned their answer to what they deem the republican campaign keynote in the speech of former Senator Root at New York. They will dare the republicans to go to the people on a platform favoring war with Germany or Mexico. They insist this is the only interpretation of Root's speech —that the republicans favor plunging this country into war.

Barnes Not to Buck Teddy
NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—William J.
Barnes will not conduct in person a western tour of anti-Roosevelt emi-saries to kill off the T. R. boom, he said positively today.

Though it had been generally reported that the Albany chieftain had been picked by the Hilles-Crane-Taft leaders to act as chief executioner of Roosevelt hopes in the west, Barnes himself denied the reports. He added, parenthetically, that he is "very busy here."

older a man grows, the more he realizes how young he once was.

MORE STRENGTH FOR FEEBLE OLD PEOPLE

If all the old people in La Crosse realized what Vinol will do for them, we would not be able to get enough of it to supply the demand.
We quote from a recent letter received from Mrs. A. E. Carson of Kingston, N. Y.
She says:—"I am 69 years of age and had been ailing for a long time with indigestion. I got run-down, was weak, dizzy and could not sleep at night. I consulted two doctors who said I had hardening of the arteries and at my age could not expect to be strong again. My daughter would give me no peace until I tried Vinol, as it had done so much for her. I have taken five bottles and my health and strength have come back, so I am able to do all the housework for my family of four, and I am recommending Vinol to all my friends."
The reason Vinol is so beneficial to old people is because it contains the very elements needed to replace declining strength with renewed vigor, viz: the medicinal elements of fresh cod livers without oil, pep-tone of iron, beef peptone, and a mild tonic wine. Hoeschler Bros.,

That should pack the house.
We've all heard Judge Kleeber in very funny, for he's about the drollest thing imaginable when it comes to solemn oratory with a few well aimed slams at the other fellow.

When the boys dragged Dr. Gatter-dam into the show by the hair of his head—impossible! impossible!—
by the ears—that's possible—people thought it either the height of the impossible or the pinnacle of the ridiculous, but "when the stag has drunk his fill" and with the boy-hood buoyancy that's the charm of him Judge Kleeber swings onto the stage with that "tramp, tramp, tramp, the boys are marching" stride that always gets him to the duck or prairie hens two yells and a gun-shot ahead of his fellows—well, it don't matter much what he says, for he'll make the big hit and get the big hand.

There's deliberation, perhaps a drawl, to the speech of Judge Kleeber that fits him admirably for the solemn piece of humor for which he was chosen by acclamation. "Will he do it?" the gang exclaimed, when a visionary youth suggested him for the part. "Naw," chorused everybody. "I'll ask him," said the daring one.
The judge accepted the nomination. The little one breathlessly announced it. And then that bunch of blackfaced comedians raised a shout of applause.

PIRACY SAYS LODGE
BEFORE THE SENATE

Declares United States Cannot Recognize Submarine Order Without Breaking Neutrality

STERLING SEES GRAVE CRISIS

Author Against Acceptance of Order Hints Repetition of Lusitania Affair
Would Mean War

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Germany and Austria propose piracy, Senator Lodge declared in the senate today. It is inconceivable, he said, that the United States should accept their plan to sink armed merchantmen without warning.

After citing precedents that arming merchantmen for defense has been allowed ever since the days of Barbary pirates, and to show it has been approved by the United States during the present war, he declared that to change this policy now would be to commit an unneutral act in favor of Germany.

Lodge and Senator Sterling spoke on the latter's resolution, declaring the United States cannot accept the principle proposed by Germany and Austria.

The German order to sink armed merchantmen without warning constitutes "our gravest international crisis," Senator Sterling of South Dakota declared in the senate today.

Denouncing the German order as a reversion to the Dark Ages, Sterling uttered a scarcely veiled threat that repetition of the Lusitania or Arabic incidents would mean war.

Sharp debate resulted from the attacks on the administration's foreign policy.

After the two republicans had declared that the reported course of the administration toward a possible approval of the central powers' submarine policy was a step toward war, Senator Thomas read into the record the more recent reports that no such approval was intended. He then charged the attacks had been made for political effect and not based on facts or a sincere desire to better the nation's international relations.

VISITORS CAPTURED BY NIGHT SCHOOLS

Thursday Night Sight-seers Become So Interested in Classes That Several Enroll

Visitors' evening at the Longfellow school last night brought out an unusually large attendance, which saw in operation the following classes: Dressmaking, in charge of Miss Magdalen Tillman; cooking, Miss Ella Cronk; Arithmetic, D. H. Shepardson; English for foreigners, W. C. Greenwalt; gardening, C. E. Schaefer.

Several of the visitors enrolled for the household arts courses and signified their intentions of joining the classes.

Much interest centered around the articles of clothing made by the girls of the day continuation school. The display consisted of various styles of undergarments, scarfs, caps, house dresses, aprons, dresses and bath robes. From a commercial standpoint the work was highly commendable.

Twenty-three students attended the new short unit course in gardening which is to continue every Thursday evening for four weeks. The topic, "How and When to Seed" was being treated in a very skillful and practical way. The board of industrial education is finding that the short unit method of instruction is more popular than the continuous method and accordingly this form is to be adopted where ever it is found practical to do so.

Christ Church

Main and Ninth Streets
Sunday, Feb. 20th

Morning Service 10:45 A.M.
Sermon 11:30 A.M.

The sermon will be a consideration of this question:—Should a Church be made to fit the people, or should the people be made to fit the Church? If the Church is a purely human institution, as is a club or society, it is evident that it should be adapted to meet the desires of those who compose it; if the Church be a Divine Institution, it is equally evident that the people in it should be educated to satisfy its conditions. If the reader join a club or society, he has a right to expect a welcome from its members, because it is their club, so some churches welcome strangers, because they consider themselves as religious clubs. If you come to Christ Church, you receive no welcome—it is your Father's House and you enter it as a right. If you enter the post office you expect no welcome, even from the postmaster—it is your Country's property and you have a right to enter it, and it would be an act of arrogance for even the postmaster to say, that you are welcome to its use. All this is a fundamental question in religion, and it may be worth your while to hear a bit on the other side.

Sunday Eve. 7:30

A musical service will be rendered by the choir of Christ Church, and Father Johnson will preach a short sermon.

Not Invited

Kindly do not consider the above matter as invitation to go to church; it is a notice of the hour at which your Father's House will be open for service next Sunday. If you do go, pay as little attention to the others who may be in the church as you do to those who may be in the post office when you enter to mail a letter.

and died without uttering another sound.

To Claim Body
Father Cashion, chaplain at Sing Sing, will claim and bury the body of Schmidt on behalf of his mother in Germany. For the first time in the history of the death house a full mass was said by Father Cashion before a temporary altar. A crucifix, two candles and a cross were placed upon an improvised altar so small it could have been placed in a suitcase.

Beads Schmidt used during the years he was a priest and which he retained until the hour of his death he gave at the last minute to Father Cashion with the request that they be sent to his mother in Germany. The pillow upon which he slept during the many months he was in the death house, Schmidt bequeathed to Walter Watson of Brooklyn, wife murderer and Schmidt's friend, who will follow Schmidt to the chair two weeks from today.

Protests Innocence to Last Schmidt to the last avowed his innocence. He made no final statement, even to Father Cashion, aside from his farewell in front of the chair.

CRONES CONTINUES TO TAUNT POLICE

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—Spurred by a second letter taunting the police for their inability to find him, Detectives combed New York today for Jean Crones, anarchist wanted for the attempted poisoning of 300 guests at the Mundelein banquet in Chicago.

The second letter, supposedly from Crones, addressed to a New York newspaper, flouted the police and was marked by his finger prints. The letter welcomed the coming of the Chicago detectives to help in the search for him, asserting Crones has something to "let go" when they arrive.

ALLIES LOSE MANY TRYING TO RETAKE LOST TRENCHES

BERLIN, via London, Feb. 18.—The British have suffered very heavy losses in an unsuccessful attempt to reconquer 700 yards of trench positions taken by the Germans south of Ypres, the war office announced this afternoon.

South of the Somme, similar counter attacks by the French broke down under heavy German fire. All the positions captured by the Germans in the recent fighting near Frise have been maintained.

PARIS, Feb. 18.—Recent violent activity along the western front has now almost entirely ceased. The war office this afternoon reported an utter calm along the whole front last night.

LORIMER TO PLEAD IGNORANCE ABOUT BANKS' AFFAIRS

CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—With six jurors tentatively accepted and prospects of the trial getting under way more speedily than anticipated, attorneys for Former Senator William Lorimer and for the prosecution today indicated the fight to convict or free Lorimer of bank wrecking will rest on one point.

The defense will contend Lorimer was ignorant of the affairs of the Lorimer-Munday banks; the state will charge that as president of the concerns the former senator could not have been ignorant of them, and, as president, was responsible for the acts of his subordinates.

EMERGENCY DIKE GIVES AND WATERS THREATEN VILLAGE

AMSTERDAM, Feb. 18.—The emergency dam just outside the village of Purmerend burst today and a great volume of water is rushing down upon the town through the broken dike. Alarms have been sounded through surrounding districts and the burgomaster ordered all citizens to their attics.

Purmerend, a town of 6,000 inhabitants, lies about fifteen miles north of Amsterdam near the Zuider Zee. The Zuider Zee dikes, according to dispatches from The Hague Wednesday, have broken at several points before the assaults of huge waves lashed by a severe northwest gale. These dispatches reported several villages threatened.

One of the best games of the season was witnessed last night when the Senior Physical Eds and the High school clashed for the leadership of the normal league. The score at the end of the half was tied at six all and it continued close throughout the game. With the score 19 to 9 in the Physical Eds' favor one minute before time was called, the crowd pleaded for the High school to score. An opportunity was given, but a foul was missed and just before the whistle blew, the Eds tucked the game safely away by tossing another basket.

The second game, that between the Junior Physical Eds and the State Graded team, was freakish. The State Graders with their new team got the jump and the score was 9 to 0 for them at the end of the period. The Physical Eds came back, however, and scored 14 points in the second half to their opponents' 9. The final score was 18 to 14.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to flush Kidneys if Back Hurts or Bladder bothers.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

Gloomy-Hued Gladiators Fight For Twelfth Time But They Embrace Much

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—Sam Langford had a little the better of Sam McVey in the twelfth meeting of the gloomy gladiators in a ten round tilt at Madison Square Garden. The bout, however, was slow and most of the fans left before the finish. Langford landed a few wallops that did get over but an abiding affection kept the two Negroes in close embrace most of the time.

Weeghman Pays Big Wad to Get Into Baseball

Present Owner of Cubs Says He Spent $550,000 First Year Not Mentioning Others

CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—Charlie Weeghman's plunge into baseball cost him and his friends $550,000 the first year, he said today, in explaining how he got into the business end of the game. He didn't say what the second year cost.

"It was during a game of golf with Jim Gilmore that I became interested in getting into the game financially," he said. Weeghman said he started with an investment of $28,000 and is satisfied with his investment, now that he has the Cubs.

Phil Ball, new owner of the St. Louis Browns, told fellow magnates at the annual schedule meeting in New York last night that it cost him $182,000 for his first two years' experience as a magnate, dispatches said. He said his first year cost him $88,000 and the second $94,000.

IT'S A BUSY NIGHT AT THE NORMAL

First Comes Basketball Game with Rochester and Then Senior Vaudeville

Tonight is a crowded night at the normal school with two big events being pulled off this evening. The first event will be the basket ball game between La Crosse and the Rochester Y, a return game, and the third game this week for the local team. This game will be called at 7:15 sharp in order that the majority of the evening may be devoted to the first annual senior vaudeville production.

Much is expected of the normal's first vaudeville show tonight. Not only have the senior pedagogues been hard at work to get the acts into shape, but much energy has been expended to get the stage in first class condition especially for tonight's show. The stage has been extended about ten feet, footlights have been installed, much scenery has been added, rear curtains and new drop curtains have been provided and the final touches have been put on everything in preparation for the curtain raiser at eight o'clock.

GESTURES REVEAL THOUGHTS DESPITE EFFORTS TO HIDE

time by employing their knowledge of typical gestures. When a man makes a resolution he suddenly compresses his lips and makes a slight backward motion of the body. When you resolve that you are going to perform a certain action you set your lips and perhaps push back your chair. Then you begin to think it out. You cannot imagine yourself making an important resolution with your mouth open. The lawyer, then, watching the prisoner, detects a sudden compression of the lips and an almost imperceptible backward movement of the body as the man moves in his chair. The last piece of evidence brought forward by a witness declared that the prisoner was seen at a certain place at a certain time. The lawyer now knows that the accused has resolved to deny it.

Reading a Jury

The same thing is noticeable with the jury. When a juror sits back in his chair with his lips closely set, it is conclusive proof that he has formed his opinion and that thereafter nothing can change it. By the nature of the evidence preceding this attitude the criminal lawyer can determine what that opinion is. If condemnatory, the verdict will be "Guilty"; if favorable, he will vote for acquittal.

The eyes are always infallible barometers of the emotions, especially the pupil of the eye which dilates and contracts under great mental stress. A man may be weak with pent-up anger and outwardly serene with the exception of his eyes, the pupils of which will be contracted and have an unnatural glitter. Sparkling eyes are always an indication of inward hysteria, the sparkle in reality being an intensified secretion of tears.

Eyes Close at Shock

The quick closing of the eyes is indicative of unpleasant shock. The lawyer produces the knife of the accused which was found near the scene of the murder. The man in the dock instantly veils his eyes and slightly lifts his hand as if to shrink from it. Unconscious that he has made these typical gestures, however, he swears that the knife does not belong to him and he has never seen it before.

The simulation of various emotions, at all times very difficult unless the person be peculiarly gifted, is next to impossible in a court room. In cases where it has been attempted the effort was easily discernible and deceived no one. Astonishment, for example, is expressed by raising the hands in the air, often covering the mouth with the palm. This gesture is so entirely inadvertent that any deliberate simulation of it would be perfectly obvious.

One of the hardest emotions to detect is that of scorn, for it is one which people go to the most pains to conceal. There are many persons for whom you may feel contempt, but out of a sense of politeness or expediency you cannot show it. The keen observer, however, can always detect the presence of scorn. It is characterized by an artificial tone of the voice almost nasal, and a dilation of the nostrils. The shoulders are also raised, as if the person were trying by main force to lift himself into another atmosphere. Sometimes the breath is rapidly inhaled through the nostrils, producing a sort of sniff.

Guilty Not Scornful

The exhibition of scorn in the court room is always considered a good sign by the criminal lawyer. It is difficult for a man with a very guilty conscience to feel scorn for another. It is sometimes simulated, but in such cases is always accompanied by what is meant to be a deprecating smile. Real scorn does not smile. If a man has just uttered a slander against you and you are scornfully angry, you do not feel like smiling.

Every one of the emotions has its significant and typical gestures. Deference and spite, which are a combination of resolution and scorn, are expressed by clenching the teeth or baring them slightly. This is always accompanied by a frown, while the breath is inhaled rapidly through the nostrils.

Rage is characterized by many gestures. The person's body is held rigidly erect or thrown well forward. His muscles are contracted and his mouth and teeth pressed tightly together. The voice is vibrant, or lower than usual with a touch of hoarseness. The forehead is wrinkled and the face either flushed or pale. All of these signs do not necessarily appear at once, but separately or all together, they are typical. Resignation is characterized by the unconscious folding of the hands in the lap and a slight droop of the shoulders.

Hands Tell Much

The hands, although held carefully in the lap, tell much. The involuntary clench of the fingers in anger, the cramped fingers expressing pain, or any of the other spasmodic and nervous movements of the hands and fingers are keenly observed by the criminal lawyer.

In women the feet are most expressive. Unable to give vent to their anger by stamping their feet, they press their toes close to the ground. When embarrassed they turn their toes inward and describe circles and curves on the floor. When impatient they tap the floor with their toes. Of course these movements seem perfectly obvious, but when there is just the faintest suggestion of them it requires very keen perception to see them at all.

A prisoner may keep his secret for months, but in the end his gestures will tell the truth to the trained observer. The shifty man in business, the woman who is trying to hide the truth the acquaintance who poses as a friend while he really dislikes you—they are all betraying themselves every minute, if you only know what to watch. It is no more than a plain

CAUSED BY THIN BLOOD

Many people think they have kidney trouble because they have backache but more backache is caused by overstrained and undernourished muscles than by anything else. In such cases the blood needs building up.

Many rheumatic people suffer pains that could be avoided by building up the blood. When rheumatism is associated with thin blood the rheumatism cannot be cured to stay cured until the blood is built up.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up the blood and sufferers from backache would do well to try this treatment before giving way to worry over a fancied organic disease. Rest and the tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will correct most forms of backache, even rheumatic.

For people who work too hard or dance too much and sleep too little, better habits and a course of treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are all that is needed to drive away the pains and aches that are warnings of a coming breakdown. Two books, "Building Up the Blood" and "Nervous Disorders," will be sent free, if you are interested, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at the nearest drug store or by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes, $2.50.

The Doctor's Advice

by Dr. Lewis Baker

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply in any case of similar nature.

Those wishing further advice, free may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College-Elwood Sts., Dayton, O., enclosing self-addressed stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given, but only fictitious name will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

This treatment three or four times after washing and in a few weeks all your dandruff should disappear and your hair become healthy and soft.

"Corpulent" asks: "What will overcome corpulence? I am so fat as to be in my own way. I'm short of breath and cannot stand exercise."

Answer: To reduce safely, use five grain arbolone tablets. They are the most reliable reducers I could prescribe. Many are pleased with results from arbolone.

"Misery" writes: "I have been a worn-out man for the past few months. My physical and mental forces are much impaired. I do not seem to be able to think clearly. I am much depressed all the time and my usual ambition and energy seem to have died. I have headache and pains in my back."

Answer: Your condition is identical to thousands of others brought to my attention yearly. Yes, your physical and mental forces are, as you say, much impaired, but you need not be alarmed over your condition. The use of three grain cadomene tablets should soon put you back in normal condition and fit to combat any troubles. Cultivate regular habits of living.

"Mite" asks: "I seem to be shrinking in size. I am very pale and thin. I do not feel sick, but I'm very weak. I want to increase my weight."

Answer: You are anaemic and the food you eat does not properly nourish your system; three grain hypodermic tablets cause proper food assimilation and increase weight and strength. Take them with your meals. Sold in sealed packages.

"Mrs. Ella M." writes: "Please prescribe for me again. This time for my kidneys. I have chills and fever, look bad, have puffs under my eyes and my urine is dark in color and of bad odor. Sometimes my back hurts."

You should get almost instant relief from the use of balmwort tablets. I have prescribed these in numerous cases of kidney trouble and they have given excellent results. Most drug stores carry these tablets and they come in sealed tubes with proper directions.

"S. L. E." writes: "I have a very severe case of dandruff. My scalp itches and my hair is coming out in handfuls."

Answer: Get a jar of plain yellow balmwort from your drug store. Wash the hair and scalp with wet run well in the scalp plain yellow balmwort. Rub on thoroughly and your scalp will be clean and active. Repeat

O'NEIL WANTS TO FIGHT WHITE FOR THE STATE TITLE

"Stockyards" Tommy O'Neil, erts-while of Chicago, now, apparently of La Crosse, is an ambitious fellow. He wants to fight Young White of Oshkosh for the Wisconsin championship, says his manager, Mique Malloy, bowling alley owner and general man of sports.

O'Neil, says Malloy, will fight White at 137 pounds at three o'clock before any club offering the best terms.

O'Neil is the boy who went ten rounds with Ad Wolgast at a recent show of the Kannia A. C.

Hot Water for Sick Headaches

Tells why everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it before breakfast.

Headache of any kind, is caused by auto intoxication—which means self-poisoning. Liver and bowel poisons called toxins, sucked into the blood, through the lymph ducts, excite the heart which pumps the blood so fast that it congests in the smaller arteries and veins of the head producing violent, throbbing pain and distress, called headache. You become nervous, despondent, sick, feverish and miserable, your meals sour and almost nauseate you. Then you resort to acetanilide, aspirin or the bromides which temporarily relieve but do not rid the blood of these irritating toxins.

A glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, drunk before breakfast for awhile, will not only wash these poisons from your system and cure you of headache but will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary canal.

Ask your pharmacist for a quarter pound of limestone phosphate. It is inexpensive, harmless as sugar, and almost tasteless, except for a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant.

If you aren't feeling your best, if tongue is coated or you wake up with bad taste, foul breath or have colds, indigestion, biliousness, constipation or sour, acid stomach, begin the phosphated hot water cure to rid your system of toxins and poisons.

Results are quick and it is claimed that those who continue to flush out the stomach, liver and bowels every morning never have any headache or know a miserable moment.

"SIT BACK AND LAUGH" SLOGAN FOR ELKS' SHOW

Dull Care to Disappear
when Antlered Minstrels Frolic Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday

The Elks have chosen the expression "Just sit back and laugh," as the slogan for their big minstrel show, Feb. 21, 22 and 23. A company of fifty tried and true minstrel men have been called to the standard and all their efforts are being directed to make this the zenith of laughing shows ever produced in this city. There is nothing that affords one more relief and rest from cares and woes than laughter and the Elks' show will impart over two hours of mirth and frolic.

The show is one of brilliance in color, wit and music. "The headliner farce, 'La Crosse in the Year 2000,' is one solid festival of wit and laughter for fifteen minutes. The endmen are all chosen for their fun-making ability. "Eddie" Newburg has a new eccentric dance all his own to accompany that imitable rag number, "Aunt Skinner's Chicken Dinner." You will laugh at "Punch" Nemeser in his original rendition of "Old Bill Bailey." The latest gags known to minstrelsy are employed to increase the merriment. In fact, it is hard to see where there is a quiet moment during the whole show. "Just sit back and laugh." If you come the first night, it is a sure thing you will want to see it again. Monday, Feb. 21, is the date of the opening performance.

STOP DANDRUFF! HAIR GETS THICK WAVY, BEAUTIFUL

Girls! Draw a cloth through your hair and double its beauty.

Spend 25 cents! Dandruff vanishes and hair stops coming out.

To be possessed of a head of heavy, beautiful hair: soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff is merely a matter of using a little Danderine.

It is easy and inexpensive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine now—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed, and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance, freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and lustre, and try as you will you can not find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp—Danderine is, we believe, the only sure hair grower, destroyer of dandruff and cure for itchy scalp and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries this.

SCHMIDT HOPED HIS DEATH WOULD STOP CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

Ex-Priest Who Was Executed Today Thought Possible Martyrdom Would Cause Reforms

CUT UP BODY OF SWEETHEART

Schmidt Went Through More Than Two Years in Courts and in Jail for Crime

Chronology

September 2, 1913—Anna Aumuller was killed and her body was thrown into the North river.

September 15—Hans Schmidt was arrested and confessed that he had killed her and dismembered the body.

October 23—Alienists were called in by the state and pronounced the prisoner sane.

December 23—The first trial was concluded. It resulted in a disagreement of the jury, two of the jurors holding that he was insane.

February 6, 1914—Another jury convicted him of murder in the first degree.

February 12—He was sentenced to die in the week beginning March 12.

February 16—Schmidt confessed that he shammed insanity at his trial.

March 19—Notice of appeal filed, which automatically acted as a stay of execution.

November 10—Motion for new trial made before Supreme Court Justice Davis.

January 29, 1915—Motion for new trial is denied.

March 19—District Attorney Perkins moves before the court of Appeals for the affirmation of the judgment without argument. Court of Appeals sets the case for the second Monday in October.

September 27—Alphonso G. Koelble appears before the Court of Appeals and makes application to be assigned as counsel for Schmidt. Applies for further delay, but is ordered to serve his brief on the district attorney by October 11.

October 27—Schmidt's appeal is argued before the Court of Appeals, and later denied.

February 18—Schmidt died in the electric chair.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—Hans Schmidt, ex-priest, who died this morning in the electric chair at Ossining for the murder of his sweetheart, Anna Aumuller, was the man who told his attorney he wanted to die in the electric chair in the hope that his innocence would afterward be established and capital punishment thereby would be stopped.

It was on Sept. 5, 1913, that the upper part of Anna Aumuller's dismembered body was found in the river off Woodcliff, N. J. Ten days afterward, by persistent work on the part of Police Inspector Faurot the mystery was solved to the satisfaction of the police.

The body was identified as that of a former servant in the rectory of St. Boniface's church, and Schmidt who for three years had been performing the functions of a priest in New York, was arrested in the rectory of St. Joseph's church.

On the day of his arrest the priest made a full confession, in which he admitted that he killed the girl and cut her body into nine pieces. His statements on that occasion were so startling that his sanity was questioned, and experts were called by the state. A month later they pronounced him sane and shaming insanity. Four alienists were then called by the defense. After several examinations they went on the stand at his two trials, the one in December, 1913, and the other in February, 1914, and swore that he was incurably insane.

First Trial Disagreement

At the first trial two of the jurors held that he was insane and a disagreement resulted. At both of them the state based its case largely on his own story at the time of his arrest, supported by a mass of corroborative testimony. At the second trial, although he interposed the same defense, he was convicted.

Statements Disagree

He was sentenced on February 12. Three days afterward he sent for Assistant District Attorney Delehanty and confessed that he had been shaming insanity up to and during the time of his trials, and that the ideas which had been advanced to the alienists had been gained not from his own experiences, but from reading a medical book dealing with dementia praecox.

He then proceeded to tell Mr. Delehanty an entirely different story than the one on which he was convicted, the second being to the general effect that Anna Aumuller had died as the result of a criminal operation. The papers in opposition to Schmidt's motion for a new trial reveal that besides the statement made to his own attorney, which was subsequently told in affidavit form, that he had made two other contradictory statements, making four different stories in all.

Schmidt's contradictions finally resolved themselves into an affidavit which he made on October 30, 1914, and which was used as the basis for a motion for a new trial.

Charged Illegal Operation

This affidavit was to the effect that a friend had performed an operation on Anna Aumuller, as a result of which she died, and that another woman had been present in the capacity of nurse. A Dr. Leo, he swears, was called in after her death and asked to issue a death certificate, but refused.

Then he asserted that his friend cut up the body. He swears that his previous statements were made in an effort to shield these people.

The evil that men do is soon forgotten—by themselves.

Makes Your Stuffed, Germ-laden, Catarrhal Head Clear as a Bell

When you wake in the morning plagued with the tortures of head colds and catarrh, head, nose and throat stopped up, air passages clogged with obnoxious catarrhal discharges that have collected during the night and you can hardly breathe—just put a little Hyomei Pocket Inhaler charged with the pleasant healing oil of Hyomei between your lips. Hold it there while dressing and breathe the medicated, antiseptic, germ killing air deep into your nose, throat and lungs with every breath you draw.

This clean smelling, germ-destroying air of Hyomei penetrates deep down into every fold and crevice of the membranous linings of your nose, throat and lungs, where no liquid spray could possibly get and absolutely kills and drives out of your system every germ it finds there, heals the inflamed swollen tissues and after the very first trial you notice a wonderful improvement. A few weeks' use and every catarrhal germ is killed and driven out of your system.

Druggists everywhere think so well of Hyomei that they agree to give you a guarantee with every complete inhaler set you purchase that if it does not satisfy they will gladly return every cent you paid for it, but if using for the first time be sure to ask for the complete Hyomei Pocket Inhaler outfit as the smaller package does not contain the inhaler. BULLS VICTORS IN CHICAGO MARKET
Higher Cables and Heavy
Buying Backs the Bears;
Heavy Buying Helps
Corn
CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—Higher cables and heavy buying blocked a determined clique of bears in the wheat market today in a see-saw scrap which caused the market to fluctuate by fractions. The bulls had a small edge the better of the fight. May wheat was 1/4c up at $1.29 1/4, and July 1/2c up at $1.23 1/4.
Heavy buying in the corn market was offset by a selling wave, which kept the market fairly steady. May was unchanged at 78 1/2c and July gained an eighth, selling at 78 1/2c.
May oats lost an eighth and July gained an eighth in a market influenced by other grains. The months ruled around 48 1/2c and 45 1/2c respectively.
Provisions were slightly higher on good buying.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG
Nobody can Tell when you Darken Gray, Faded Hair with Sage Tea.
Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry itchy scalp and falling hair.
A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant.

ON ACCOUNT of rains and cold weather in the south our vegetable garden is not as complete as we would like it. But we will have Celery, Celery Cabbage, Green Peppers, Tomatoes, Cucumbers, Spinach, Green Onions, Radishes, Mushrooms, Artichokes, Head and Leaf Lettuce, New Beets, New Carrots, New Turnips, Strawberries, Grapes, Grape Fruit and Oranges.

EVERY THREE MINUTES ONE DIES IN THE U. S.

The Anti-Tuberculosis Society illustrates the frightful toll of consumption by extinguishing a light every three minutes, and shows that it is the man or woman, girl or boy, who neglects colds, whose blood is impure, who feels weak and languid, who is the very one to contract tuberculosis—and none are immune.

During changing seasons, or after sickness, blood-quality is most important, and if you and your family will take Scott's Emulsion after meals it will charge your blood with health-sustaining richness, quicken circulation, and strengthen both lungs and throat. Scott's is free from alcohol—easy to take—it cannot harm. Get a bottle to-day. Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J. 15-23

Good Health Is Impossible Without Good Blood

Scientists have revealed some amazing facts regarding the functions of the blood and its relation to health. To many, the blood is simply a necessary part of the body, which takes care of itself.

A microscopic examination of one drop of blood shows millions of minute bodies or corpuscles, each an individual life force. The life of a corpuscle is usually six weeks and must be replaced, science tells us, at the startling rate of 8,000,000 per second.

Good blood is the foundation of good health and can only be attained through a stomach in good condition.

The source of most ills is traceable directly to the stomach, which acts as a power plant, converting the food we eat into blood. Like all machinery the stomach occasionally fails in its duties and requires assistance to put it in proper condition.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

a product of nature, being made from clean wholesome grain thoroughly malted, is invaluable in assisting the stomach in its important duties, by stimulating the flow of gastric juices necessary for the proper digestion of food. If the stomach is kept in good condition, health invariably follows.

Better health awaits you if you take a tablespoonful of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey in equal amounts of water or milk before meals and on retiring. Begin today to

"Get Duffy's and Keep Well."
